ARAB STATES: Summit Agrees to Peace Plan

According to press reports, Arab leaders have agreed to call for an independent Palestinian state in the West Bank and Gaza. The plan's call for the UN to guarantee the security of the states in the area is widely interpreted as an implicit recognition of Israel's right to exist. Despite this, Israel is certain to reject any proposal that calls for an independent Palestinian state. [REDACTED]

The press also reports Arab agreement on a draft resolution that finds "positive aspects" in President Reagan's Middle East initiative announced last week. Several press sources also indicate Syria initially accepted and then rejected, under pressure by the PLO, a withdrawal of its troops from Lebanon. [REDACTED]
